HEARTH's Emerging Leaders Board (ELB) is a dedicated group of young adults making a difference in their community while working on professional and personal development. Our ELB is committed to raising awareness about HEARTH's housing programs and suite of supportive services provided to the families in the Pittsburgh region.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Act as ambassadors in support of community activities, policies, and partnerships
- Support the planning of fundraising, networking, and advocacy events
- Involve emerging leaders through volunteering, event attendance, and social media engagement
- Provide education on homelessness and domestic violence to raise awareness about issues facing HEARTH's clients
- Encourage other organizations and corporations to attend fundraising and educational events
- Recommend new board members

REQUIREMENTS

- Be between 21-40 years old
- Live in the Pittsburgh region
- Exhibit a passion for HEARTH's mission and vision
- Willingness to network in the community, solicit donations, and engage people at events
- Willingness to serve on and contribute to an agency committee
- Be engaged within a professional, community, or non-profit field

TESTIMONIAL

"I have been involved with HEARTH for the past ten years and am very proud of how the organization and Emerging Leaders Board have grown. I enjoy being on the ELB because I get to work and hang out with people who are also passionate about HEARTH's mission.

Additionally, the ELB allowed me to assume a leadership position right out of college and provided a supportive environment to pursue interests, give back, and develop professional skills." -Mia Siclari, ELB Past President and Member
